

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Linda J. Bell
717-569-7081

DATE: August 12, 2005

LANCASTER, PA – August 12, 2005; NextStep Technology Advisors today proudly announced their impressive scores in Best Software's 2004 Software Customer Satisfaction Survey. The annual survey is conducted confidentially by Best Software, Inc., and polls MAS 90 users nationwide. NextStep's overall score of 9.56 was well above the average score of 8.26 for all MAS 90® and MAS 200® reseller firms. Users were asked to rate their resellers' performance in several categories on a scale of 1 to 10.

"Our customers' satisfaction is our primary goal," said Amir Friedman, Partner in Charge of NextStep Technology Advisors. "The results of the survey are an acknowledgement of the emphasis we place on providing each customer with exceptional information systems and services, while building lasting relationships to enhance the success of our clients."

NextStep scored 9.67 (average was 7.99) for level and frequency of communication, and 9.56 (average was 8.41) for attention given to clients. In the category for skill level of support personnel, NextStep received a 9.56 rating (average was 8.19).

NextStep Technology Advisors is an Information Technology Consulting Company based in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. NextStep provides MAS 90 and MAS 200 business management, accounting, distribution, manufacturing and other software solutions for a wide variety of business needs. NextStep also builds and supports IT solutions, including Local Area and Wide Area Networks, Internet connectivity, messaging systems, security solutions and much more. More information about the products and solutions offered by NextStep Technology Advisors can be found at www.NextStepTA.com.

#

The fusion of technology and business insights

444 Murry Hill Circle • Lancaster, PA 17601

(717) 519-1200 • fax (717) 519-1255 • www.NextStepTA.com